A NEW MEXICAN

Talks Interestingly of the South-western Territory.

IS NOT READY FOR STATEHOOD

Is the Opinion of Mr. McClintock, a Mine Owner, who was in the City Yesterday—Spanish-Americans and Indians would Not Form a Desirable Basis for the Forty-sixth Commonwealth—Talks of the "Old Abe" Silver Mine.

Mr. John D. McClintock, president of the "Old Abe Eagle" mine, located at White Oak, New Mexico, was in the city yesterday afternoon. He had just come from a visit to Senator Elkins, who is largely interested in New Mexico mining properties.

Talking about gold mine properties, Mr. McClintock said New Mexico will next be heard from. The range of mountains known as the El Capitan, White Mountain, and so forth are a spur of the great Rockies, and in this spur is unlimited wealth. Gold quartz in particular, but there is in addition iron and marble of the best quality.

Speaking about the "Old Abe" mine, he said it is now in the neighborhood of 1,000 feet with nine tunnels tunneling the bowels of the mountains for many hundreds of feet. It was first opened during the year 1890 and practical work began at once. During the intervening time it has made an annual yield of $1,000,000 gross to the company, but just now it is a standstill temporarily owing to a cave-in caused by the burning of timber props. However, the gentleman said work was already under way and it was to be hoped that matters would be running as of yore.

When asked about the proposed New Mexico, Mr. McClintock was of the opinion that the territory was not in proper shape for that step yet, a good many New Mexicans to the contrary notwithstanding. The American population is not such as to warrant taking serious steps in the direction of statehood. Santa Fe, the territorial seat of government, is composed chiefly of Spanish people. Then comes Albuquerque, the largest city in the territory, as well as being the commercial center, is about evenly divided, but with the exception of the Pecos valley, a fruit and agricultural section, and the mining sections, the balance of the territory is made up by the Spanish people and Pueblo Indians, and hence Mr. McClintock's idea of the prematureness in the matter.

Speaking about the climate of New Mexico, the gentleman said: "Our country offers the only solution to weak lung people. The climate is level and pleasant the year around. It makes well and strong men out of those who go there troubled with asthma and consumption."

THE STATE FAIR.

The Grounds are Assuming a Busy Appearance—Exhibits Being Put in Place and Stock Arriving.

In view of the closing drama of stringing times and the dawning of more activity on the part of the "almighty dollar," people are coming from all parts of the cardinal compass to participate in the seventeenth annual state fair, which will take up five days of next week, beginning Monday. There will be a goodly number in attendance and it is thought that this year's fair will eclipse previous ones in point of attendance for several years past. As a result the fair management will have to hustle, but it will prove equal to the occasion, and perhaps more so. To-day the grounds will be a scene of great activity, as the greater part of the decorative work will have to be completed; there will be the exhibits to be carried in and the bringing in of stock and so forth. The track is in most excellent condition and in some places there have been new additions made to the main exhibit hall which will add greatly to the display effect. So by Monday morning the grounds and buildings will be clothed in brilliant uniforms of gorgeous colors, perhaps as never before, as particular stress is being made in this direction to do it up brown.

The coming of so many people will be a matter of course fill up the hotel, lodging houses and private boarding places, and it is not probably unnecessary to point out to the visitors the fact that with them come also the confidence man and an aggregation of would-be evil doers.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Strangers in the City and Wheeling Folks Abroad.

Mrs. C. B. Graham is quite ill with chronic rheumatism.

Miss Lizzie Boyd conducted an interesting meeting at the Rescue Home on Thursday evening.

Will W. Graham will not return to the Buchanan Seminary this year. He will engage in business.

Mrs. M. S. Nicoll and brother, Mr. Edward Sunderland, of Delaware, Ill., are visiting relatives on the island.

Messrs. Alma and Elsie Henderson, of Fifteenth street, have returned to their homes, after a two month's visit to friends in Ohio.

Mr. Charles F. Dean, of Newark, O., arrived in the city yesterday, on a visit to his family, who are the guests of Congressman Benjamin W. Connelly, of the First ward.

Charles F. Farver, of Pittsburgh, is registered at the McElure. He is well-known among local iron and steel manufacturers and reports the fall outlook good in his city.

"Events," Initial Row.

"Events," the new monthly publication, will make its initial appearance next Wednesday and its coming into the field is looked forward to with a great deal of pleasant anticipation by society folks. The new publication will be a monthly, devoted to society, music and drama and will be under the guidance of Mr. Clem E. Foster, formerly of the United Press staff. A large corps of talented contributors has been interested in the monthly and the columns of "Events" will be made very attractive. The proof sheets of the first number are in the hands of the editor, and show a careful and artistic make-up, both in matter and type work.

The Enthusiasm High.

"Max Supler, with a fierce mustache, who captures thieves for his daily hash, Oldenham street, across the way."

That's the way a postal card came addressed to Lieutenant Supler, yesterday. It came from one of the Wheeling ladies, who are in the city. The enthusiasm must have been running high about that time.

MR. ASHBAUGH, the Fur man, will remain to-day at the Windsor Hotel. See him if you are interested.

If you have ever seen a little child in a paroxysm of whooping cough, or if you have been annoyed by a constant tickling in the throat, you can appreciate the value of One Minute Cough Cure, which gives quick relief. Charles H. Goetts, Market and Twelfth streets; Chatham Sinclair, Forty-sixth and Jackson streets; A. E. Scheele, No. 607 Main street; Exley Bros., Penn and Zane streets; Howie & Co., Bridgeport.

NOTICE TO PARENTS.

School Children often injure their eyes for life by parents neglecting to attend to them. Crossed eyes, headaches and many other troubles come from weak eyes strained while at school. If your child has weak eyes attend to them at once while the child is young and the eyes can be strengthened. Perhaps it may only require glasses for a short time.

We are specialists in children's eye troubles. Bring your child to us. No charge for consultation or examination.
